DEADLY BOMBS ARE EMPLOYED IN LABOR WAR

Riots Cause the Government to Suspend Constitutional Guaranties and to Proclaim Martial Law in Lisbon.

TROUBLE HAS A POLITICAL CAST

Royalists Are Said to Have Supplied Strikers With Money in an Attempt to Overthrow the Republican Government.

[Associated Press Dispatch]

LISBON, Jan. 30.—Owing to the general strike the constitutional guarantees have been suspended and martial law proclaimed in the district of Lisbon. The city has been handed over to the keeping of General Carvalhal and troops surround the town.

Toward the evening, strikers assembled at various quarters and bombs were thrown at the mounted republican guards in Rocio Square and in the suburb Alcaente, the troops were obliged to charge the mob with drawn sabres. Eight thousand troops are under arms in Lisbon. Strikers declare they have 20,000 bombs with which they will be able to annihilate the soldiers.

Several bombs have already been thrown with terrific effect. The government offers to concede part of the strikers' demands which include the release of all strikers arrested during the disturbances in the Evora district and the dismissal of the governor of Evora.

Troops are under orders to raid all suspected places with the result that wholesale arrests have been made and innumerable firearms seized. Prisoners are being placed aboard war ships in the harbor. The government has ascertained that the strike is fomented by royalists who have supplied the strikers at Evora with $500,000. The intention of the royalists was to send 1,500 armed men across the frontier into eastern Portugal, a region more favorable to a monarchy and start a general uprising, but the government hurried reinforcements there. It is reported the strikers, bandits and smugglers enticed a column of troops into the heart of the mountains near Evora where the column was in danger of being surrounded and wiped out, but was finally saved by reinforcements.

NO CHANGE AT PRESENT.

Rates Will Be Left Intact On the Panama Railroad.

[Associated Press Dispatch]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Secretary Stimson, after hearing a committee from the Pacific coast today, postponed the proposed increase of freight rates over the Panama railroad until Feb. 15. This affects also the government's steamship line from New York to Colon. Rates were increased because Col. Goethals, in charge of the building of the canal, reported his work was being delayed because of heavy shipments on the railroad, thereby using available rolling stock for public business. It also appeared that the railroad had a deficit of $75,000 for September last. Colonel Goethals will be in Washington by Feb. 15, and he will be given another hearing then.

GOVERNMENT AT WORK.

Is After Men Who May Have Kept Back Information.

[Associated Press Dispatch]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—To divulge the disposition of the McNamara defense fund Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor and H. H. Platter, cashier of the Riggs National bank, the depository of the federation's funds, will leave Washington tomorrow for Indianapolis in response to a subpoena by the federal grand jury. Each man with his records will appear before the federal inquisitors Thursday. The department of justice officials are reticent whether other national labor leaders will be summoned. The government, it is known, is working under a federal statute imposing a heavy penalty for concealment of knowledge of a felony from the properly constituted authorities.

WOMAN CONFESSED AT THE ELEVENTH HOUR

Confesses Killing a Man for Whose Murder her Brother was Being Tried.

[Associated Press Dispatch]

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—With an eleventh hour confession, that it was she who stabbed Charles Muldoon, Mrs. Theresa Martin, 22, brought a dramatic climax today to the trial of her brother, James P. McDermott, who is accused of Muldoon's murder. The victim, who is Mrs. Martin's former sweetheart, was killed in a saloon last March. McDermott fled, and after being captured in Denver, it was alleged he confessed. His sister unexpectedly appeared in court yesterday and confessed her guilty knowledge. Today she testified she had quarrelled with Muldoon and went to her home for a breadknife. Promises by both the prosecution and the judge for immunity failed to persuade her to continue her story until finally she was asked: "Who drove the knife through Muldoon's heart?"

"I did," she replied, "I did it."

The lawyers went ahead perfunctorily summing up the arguments. The case to go to the jury tomorrow.

POLICY IS CHANGED.

Mexican Government Offers to Parole All of Zapata's Followers.

[Associated Press Dispatch]

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 30.—The government policy regarding the treatment of the followers of Emiliano Zapata was tempered today, when it announced that the rebels would be pardoned if they surrendered. This applies to all except Zapata and the high officers, and in their case one-fourth of the penalty only will be inflicted if they give up. When congress suspended the constitutional guarantees, the policy was to shoot every Zapatista on sight. Four more towns and two haciendas were raided today by the Zapatistas. Zapata has divided his followers into two bands and they have dwindled to about fifty each. It is said he appears unwilling to risk another battle in the open.

USED MONEY TO REGAIN HEALTH

According to the Police, Henry Mainz Confessed to Embezzling Money Which Was Used to Fight Consumption.

Henry Mainz, a confessed embezzler, according to the police, who lives in Toledo, Ohio, is under arrest at police headquarters and will be sent back to his home city to face the charges that have been laid against him.

The police say that, according to his story, he took the money in order to enable him to fight tuberculosis. His stay in the west has greatly improved his health and he is ready to go back, answer the charge, and serve his sentence, if necessary. He will not require extradition proceedings.

The complainant is the Toledo Brewing company. The amount which Mainz is said to have taken is $300. The man, a German, had run a little saloon in the Ohio city. He told the police that his wife is now conducting the business and that he left her in charge when he came west. He went to Long Beach first, but came to Phoenix when the weather on the coast became severe. Chief of Police Moore received a warrant for the man yesterday, with a letter which told of the suspicions of Toledo's police that their man was in Phoenix. The chief immediately began a canvass of those hotels and rooming houses which enter to sick people. His search was successful late in the afternoon.

FRANKLIN SAYS HE WILL TELL ENTIRE TRUTH

In Brief Statement Detective Said He Will Not Perjure Himself for Any Man.

DARROW'S ARREST MUCH DISCUSSED

Franklin Declares There is No Understanding Between Himself and Fredericks.

[Associated Press Dispatch]

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30.—"Did you make a confession to the grand jury supplying alleged facts on which Clarence Darrow was indicted for jury bribery? Will you become a state's witness in the prosecution of Darrow, under an agreement of immunity?" These two questions were put today to Bert Franklin, the McNamara detective, accused of having bribed jurors, and attempted to bribe others in the McNamara trial. He replied:

"If placed on the witness stand I shall tell the truth. I will not perjure myself for anybody."

He maintained there was no agreement between himself and the prosecution regarding immunity. As to the reports that he had confessed, he said he had been before the inquisitors too short a time to have done very much talking.

"You can take it from me," declared he with emphasis, "Bert Franklin will never go to the pen. No leniency has been promised me and there was no arrangement between me and the district attorney's office. I expect to go to trial February 27 on the two bribery charges against me, and I expect the trial to take the usual course. If put on the witness stand I shall tell the whole truth, and not perjure myself for anybody. I have not seen Prosecutor Ford since the day I was in the grand jury room. I was in there but five minutes. A man can't tell very much in that time, can he? I might have been asked about the Lockwood case, and not as to the Palm case. A witness who didn't know his rights might have been asked about one case and then prosecuted for the other, but I know my rights."

District Attorney Ford refused to discuss the statement of Franklin. He stated, however, the grand jury will not resume its work for about ten days, but when it did, it would go into the whole matter of dynamite outrages and jury tampering exhaustively.

That's What Mack Says of the Harvey-Wilson Letters.

[Associated Press Dispatch]

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Norman E. Mack, chairman of the democratic national committee, today said the committee on arrangements for the national convention will meet in Baltimore Monday. Indications he said, are that the attendance at the convention will be the largest in the history of the party, as democrats are more confident of victory this year than ever before. Mack had nothing to say of the presidential situation, except that he had read the Harvey-Wilson letters and found them "quite interesting."

LEADER IS ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Man Directing Strike at Lawrence is Accused of Being Accessory to Woman's Death.

[Associated Press Dispatch]

LAWRENCE, Jan. 30.—Charged with being an accessory to murder, Joseph J. Etter, of New York, leader in the textile workers' strike was arrested by officers of the state police just before midnight.

Etter was taken at a hotel as he was preparing to retire. Expecting the arrest, he made preparations for bail, but was not allowed to give bond. The charge is in connection with the death of Anna Lopez who was shot during the outbreak last night. The bullet was fired by someone in the crowd of sympathizers and, police allege, was aimed at the ground but rebounded and hit the woman. Before making the arrest the police and military authorities took extra precautions to prevent an outbreak among the strikers.

With the exception of the early morning outbreak, when a Syrian stranger named John Reed was seriously injured that he died tonight, the textile strike situation was quiet today. Armed militiamen patrolled the streets with orders to shoot straight if need be, and enforce orders against a demonstration. No efforts were made to hold mass meetings or parades. Only three mills were running but it was asserted a larger number of operatives than yesterday were at work. Col. Sweetzer granted permission for a parade of the strikers in connection with the funeral of Anna Lopez, the striker accidentally shot yesterday, but only after Leader Etter agreed it should be purely a funeral procession and not a demonstration. It is expected ten thousand will be in line. No effort was made today to bring a settlement of the strike.

HE LAUDS WILSON.

Despite Governor's Former Denunciation of Him Bryan Stands Pat.

[Associated Press Dispatch]

DALLAS, Jan. 30.—In the opinion of W. J. Bryan, Woodrow Wilson was helped rather than hurt because of his controversy with Col. Watterston. He considers Wilson "right in believing a man is sometimes hurt by the sort of men clamorous in his support." The contest between Clark and Folk in Missouri he described as "distinctly unfortunate." Asked about the famous Jolene letter written by Wilson several years ago he said it is a shining illustration that Mr. Wilson is the best modern example of Saul of Tarsus. He has been soundly converted. Anyone who talks with him and hears him will be convinced that Wilson's sort of progressiveness is best demonstrated by the Smith incident in New Jersey.

[Associated Press Dispatch]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The abandonment of the program of two battleships this year brought a statement from Secretary of the Navy Meyer. Another democratic caucus may be called to reconsider the action, which Meyer arraigned as "giving another illustration of government by snap judgment." [Associated Press Dispatch]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The proposal for a children's bureau in the department of commerce and labor, to investigate and report on all matters affecting the welfare of children was debated in the senate today without action and will be voted on tomorrow. Senator Gallinger opposed the bill as contemplating an unwarranted intrusion upon private affairs. Senator Hayburn called it discrimination against the poor, and Overman branded it as unnecessary. Smith of Georgia made his maiden speech in support of the bill. Bailey attributed the bill's popularity to the influence of women who, he said, should confine their attention to subjects outside the halls of legislation. "The more a woman knows about things she ought to know," he said, "the less she knows about things we are doing here."

Stone characterized the bill as inquisitorial, involving unlimited expenditures. Borah, author of the bill, said the bureau was as much warranted as many now existing.

BOTH "SOT" IN OPINIONS, SAYS THE PRESIDENT

Yet Taft Avers That he and Governor Harmon Have Many Beliefs That Coincide.

HE SPENDS THE NIGHT IN OHIO

Talks on Peace and Also Takes Another Whack at Plan for Judiciary Recall.

[Associated Press Dispatch]

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 30.—President Taft's second day in Ohio developed less speechmaking and more politics than did his sixteen hour stop in Cleveland. Alarming reports of his condition, which went out from Cleveland last night were discredited both by President Taft and Dr. T. L. Rhoades, the army physician accompanying him.

The president said the only inconvenience suffered was from a cough, his cold interfering with sleep. Rhoades said the president is recovering from a bronchial attack. Although still hoarse he spoke today with less difficulty.

The president arrived in Columbus early and National Committeeman Vorys came from Cleveland with him but said there hadn't been any political talk enroute, not even at the breakfast table. Other republican leaders called to see the president today and talked politics. Several told the president that the Taft forces control the state central committee by a comfortable majority; others that the movement on his behalf is gaining strength.

The president spoke at a chamber of commerce luncheon on peace and dedicated the new federal building with a speech against judicial recall. Tonight as the guest of the Columbus Glee club he repeated portions of his speech of last night at Cleveland. He spent the night in Columbus and will end his trip at Akron.

Of Governor Harmon, who was a luncheon guest with the president, Taft said, when he rose to speak at the chamber of commerce luncheon: "Governor Harmon and I, because of our old affectionate associations, couldn't keep away from each other upstairs. We had a talk and we talked politics and you'd be surprised to know how many subjects, personal and otherwise, we had complete agreement about. Our views on insurgency don't differ greatly; there's little difference in detail as to persons, but as to the principle of things we are 'sot.'"
